MIRACLES OF APPLIED SCIENCE.

SOME EARLY TELEGRAPHIC PICTURES.

WORK OF SCIENCE THROUGH FOUR CENTURIES.

GALILEO'S FIRST TELESCOPE AND VOLTA'S "PILE."

The National Exhibition of the History of Science, held at Florence, is one of the most interesting that it is possible to imagine, writes a correspondent. We see examples of all the miracles of applied science which play such a large part in modern life, whether in aircraft, seacraft, telephony and telegraphy, or in the wonderful medical and surgical organization of the Red Cross, the one compensating element in modern warfare.

We can also follow through the centuries the work of the great Italian pioneers. Leonardo da Vinci, Galileo, Volta, and Galvani, to name only a few of the most important, who were the first to tread the rugged path of experimental science and blaze the trail for others.

The Modern Section.

The modern section of the exhibition shows Italy's present standpoint in practical science. The pavilion of the Air Ministry is hung with tiny models of every kind of aeroplane, hydroplane, airship, balloon, and parachute now used in the civil and military aviation of the country.

The Ministry of Marine exhibits admirable models of warships, torpedo boats, and also the famous "Cagnoli" catapult for launching aircraft from carrier vessels. In a dark room is a working exhibition of all the different types of lighthouse and flashlight signals employed on the Italian coast.

A glass case in the naval pavilion displays the historic wireless set which just a year ago was working on a Polar ice-floe, conveying the news of the "Italia's" fate to an anxious world, and thus leading to the eventual rescue of General Nobile and his five companions. In another part of the exhibition we see Marconi's first wireless apparatus of 1901.

Volta's "Pile."

The Ministry of Communications exhibits a model of Volta's "pile," the root from which all applications of electricity have sprung, and shows the progressive development of telegraphy in Italy from the early-romantic machinery of 1850 to the Morse apparatus of the present day.

This section contains the Pantograph invented in 1856 by the Siennese scientist, Abate Giovanni Caselli, for the transmission of pictures by telegraphy. The invention was taken up by Napoleon III, and tried successfully between Paris and Lyons. Some remarkably clear pictures then taken are on view here.

No one, however, seems to have grasped at that time the wide practical possibilities of the instrument; the fall of the Empire put an end to Caselli's hopes, and he died in 1881, poor and forgotten, like many another pioneer.

Historical Section.

The historical section of the exhibition is divided by regions. All the great Italian Universities have lent their treasures, recalling or illustrating the work of famous astronomers, naturalists, surgeons, and mathematicians, branches of science in which Italians have always been foremost. Bologna exhibits relics of Galvani, of the astronomer, Domenico Cassini, and of the famous naturalist Ulisse Aldrovandi and Marcello Malpighi.

A work by the latter was printed in London in 1687 by Robert Little. "In via volgo dicta Little Britain," Pisa sent a model of the famous electromagnetic known as "Pacinotti's ring." Padua has on view a most interesting collection of old works on anatomy (sixteenth to eighteenth century), richly illustrated with woodcuts, and all the schools of medicine contribute life-like wax reproductions of portions of the human body.

In view of the recent draining of Lake Nemi, it is not without interest to study the machine devised in 1829 by one Ammeo Fusconi of Milan for salvaging the treasures presumably to be found in Caligula's palatial house-baths, and a beautiful ideal reconstruction of the largest vessel in an oil painting by the architect, R. Arcaini.

Motorists gaze with amazement at the archaic-looking three-wheeled vehicle labelled as the first motor-car made in Italy, in 1892. It is fitted with an internal combustion engine of 24 h.p., and the builder, Dr. Enrico Bernardi, of Padua, toured Italy triumphantly in it at a maximum speed of fifteen miles an hour.

Galileo's First Telescope.

Rome, where the first Society for Experimental Research, the "Accademia dei Lincei," was founded in 1608, has sent a rich and varied collection of ancient astronomical instruments of all kinds, but the chief interest naturally centres in the large octagonal hall where Florence displays a selection from the priceless collection of scientific instruments and inventions connected with the immortal name of Galileo.

Here we have Galileo's first telescope invented at Venice in 1609, through which his awe-struck contemporaries saw "things visible but most distant brought within easy vision;" his geometrical and military compass; his air-thermometer, invented in 1602, and the pendulum clock, which he designed during the last months of his life, to be carried out by his pupils after his death.

The telescope, barely a yard in length, is a slender tube covered with faded red leather ornamented with gold arabesques. With it, in 1610, Galileo made his famous discoveries of Jupiter's moons (which he named the Medicean planets), and of Saturn's ring.

Ancient astrolabes, the armillary sphere of Girolamo della Volpina (1594), Coronelli's beautiful terrestrial and celestial globes, and the fine telescopes designed towards the middle of last century by the Florentine astronomer, Giovanni Amici, are among the Florentine exhibits.

JAVA'S GRAVEYARD.

on the lower levels, scenes of ordinary life, like dancing, dining, fishing, hunting, carrying water, going on pilgrimages and the like. The great ethical lesson that seems to be spread on the stones might be read something like this: "Every sin has its own appropriate and sure punishment, for the eyes of the gods are inescapable. Keep to the upright path, and the gods will reward you."

The upper terraces, on the other hand, depict in stone, similarly, the Buddhist story of redemption through endless reincarnations of the soul, now appearing in the form of a gnat, then a rabbit, a fox, a lion, a bear, an elephant, monkey, woman, horse, sage, prince, king, and at length as Buddha a god. And last of all the peaceful tranquillity of Nirvana is reached. This is usually represented by a hillside covered with palms, and seated figures on the green. This interesting but wearisome scheme of salvation it was my privilege to follow round upon round, terrace upon terrace; up to the higher levels of the shrine.

Grouping and Posing.

At one end of the stone-carved panels I saw a group of women at the temple well getting water; at the next panel they are moving away with filled jars on their heads; in another panel a woman has set her jar down and is seated on the ground apparently drinking in the great teacher's message to the people. The teacher's hands are uplifted, symbolic of instruction. I found excellent grouping and posing of the figures and the graphic portrayals of family scenes of everyday life, which make this ancient art an appealing naturalism. At times, however, there is a sturring of fine details, and often a bad proportion between human figures, animal and plant figures, but this sacrifice is made no doubt in order to aid in group effect and story-clearance.

Roughly, one might suppose that the lower levels of figures dealing with common life represent the solid things of this earth, and the upper levels of figures would appear to point the way to the subtler things of the invisible world of spirits.

A word as to the top of the Boro Budur; while the lower stories are perfect squares the three upper stories are circular in shape. The top circle, smaller than the rest, contains seventy-two bell-shaped shrines not unlike huge beehives in shape, the stones are so mortised together as to form diamond-shaped openings. Inside of each beehive shrine is seated a more than life-sized Buddha apparently sitting in silent meditation. Each of the 72 Buddhas face the huge central shrine, which forms the dome of the temple structure. These beehive-like structures in stone at a distance look like a city of domed churches. It is difficult to believe that they all rest on the top of a single huge structure.

The visitor keeps asking himself, "Why was this enormous structure built? Why was it so intricately sculptured? Why was it covered over with earth so carefully when it never served as a temple at all but only as a memorial to something dead? And how could it serve the dead in view of the fact that the Hindu faith never buries but burns its dead?"

"Again my learned informant, who supervised the excavations of the stupa, has a plausible theory to offer.

He believes that the large central beehive shrine on top of the Boro Buddar contains a pinch of the sacred ashes of the "Great Enlightened One," whose ashes the famous Hindu king and priest, prophet and reformer, Asoka, is reported to have divided into 84,000 parts and had distributed throughout the Buddhist-Hindu world. One of these sacred pinches, it is likely, is the precious dust over which this marvelous shrine is built, and with the slipping years growing traditions has cut deeper and deeper the holy sentiment which has enshrined the Boro Budur in sculptured wonder.

CHARING CROSS BANK CRASH.

POSSIBILITY OF SMALL DIVIDEND.

THE FINAL ASSETS.

It is possible that before the end of the year the 19,000 creditors of the Charing Cross Bank, which failed in 1910 with a loss of nearly £1,700,000 and ruined many small investors, will receive information concerning the payment of a dividend. It was recently stated at the office of the trustees that statements which had appeared regarding an impending distribution of a final dividend were premature.

"Negotiations are proceeding for a sale to the Canadian Government of the Atlantic Quebec and Western Railway, in which the trustees of the bankrupt estate hold a considerable interest," the informant said. "It cannot be stated, however, when the sale will be concluded or the exact result which will accrue therefrom to the Charing Cross Bank creditors."

"The trustees hope that they will be able to issue some definite notification to the creditors before the end of the year, but a distribution within the next two or three months is extremely improbable, and the figure of 2s. 6d. in the pound which has been mentioned cannot be relied upon."

Deficiency Over a Million.

Depositors all over the country were ruined when the bank closed in October, 1910, and several committed suicide. The bank, which had more than forty branches in the provinces and in Scotland, was run by Mr. Alfred William Carpenter, who, after a long trial, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the second division for obtaining money and credit by false pretences. Carpenter was sixty-nine, and the jury recommended him to mercy on account of his age and temperance.

The bank's deficiency, due to 18,000 unsecured creditors, was stated at Carpenter's public examination in bankruptcy to be £1,600,000. It was said at the trial that the bank's position was discovered by a firm of accountants, who consulted the president of their professional institute. The president communicated with the Attorney-General, and as it was realized that an immediate prosecution would cause a run on the bank representations were made to Carpenter by the authorities to file his own petition.

Counsel for the prosecution stated when the case against Carpenter was opened at Bow Street Police Court that the business of the bank was not a bank at all, and that for some years Carpenter had been engaged in the fostering and financing of a number of highly speculative ventures.

HUMOUR: ANCIENT AND MODERN.

Customer: "That chicken I bought yesterday had no wishbone."
Poulterer: "He was a happy and contented chicken, ma'am, and had nothing to wish for."

First Grad: "My wife's gone to the West India."
Second G.: "Jamaica!"
First G.: "No—she wanted to go."

Young Lady Motorist: "It's snowing and sleeting and I'd like to buy some chains for my tires."
"I'm sorry—we keep only groceries."
"How annoying! I understood this was a chain store."

"Well, boys," said Uncle Dick, "how are you getting on at school?"
"I'm first in arithmetic," Jackie replied.
"I'm first in spelling," said Bobby.
"Fine! Now what are you first in, Tommy?"
"I'm first on the street when it is time to go home."

New Tenant: "Why did you move down from the fifteenth floor?"
Old Tenant: "My dear, we simply couldn't endure the noise. The airplane traffic has become so annoying."

"But you have only two or three buildings in this new town of yours," remarked the perplexed prospector.
"I know," responded the enthusiastic real estate man, "but just look at our parking spaces."

Explorer: "Just to show you the advance of civilization—in the past the Eskimos used to eat candles for dessert."
Patient Friend: "And now, I suppose, they eat electric light bulbs?"

Clara: "She considers herself a most exclusive person."
Cissie: "Exclusive! My dear, she even sings duets alone."

Visitor: "Where's your mother, Sonny?"
Aesthetic Dancer's Son: "Out inna woods, jumpin'."

"Why can't you please that customer in a tie?"
"He wants a gray tie."
"We have plenty of gray ties."
"He wants a loud gray."

Governor: "You have displayed exemplary conduct in your three years in prison. Were you satisfied with the treatment?"
Convict: "Yes, I can warmly recommend you to all my friends."

Professor of Chemistry: "What is the common term for H₂SO₄?"
Sophomore: "I had it on the tip of my tongue a moment ago, but I can't think of it just now."
Professor: "If you had it on the tip of your tongue a moment ago you'd know it now. It's sulphuric acid."

Laura: "Why do Eileen's people object to her future husband?"
Vera: "Well, there are seven in the family and he's only got a two-seater."

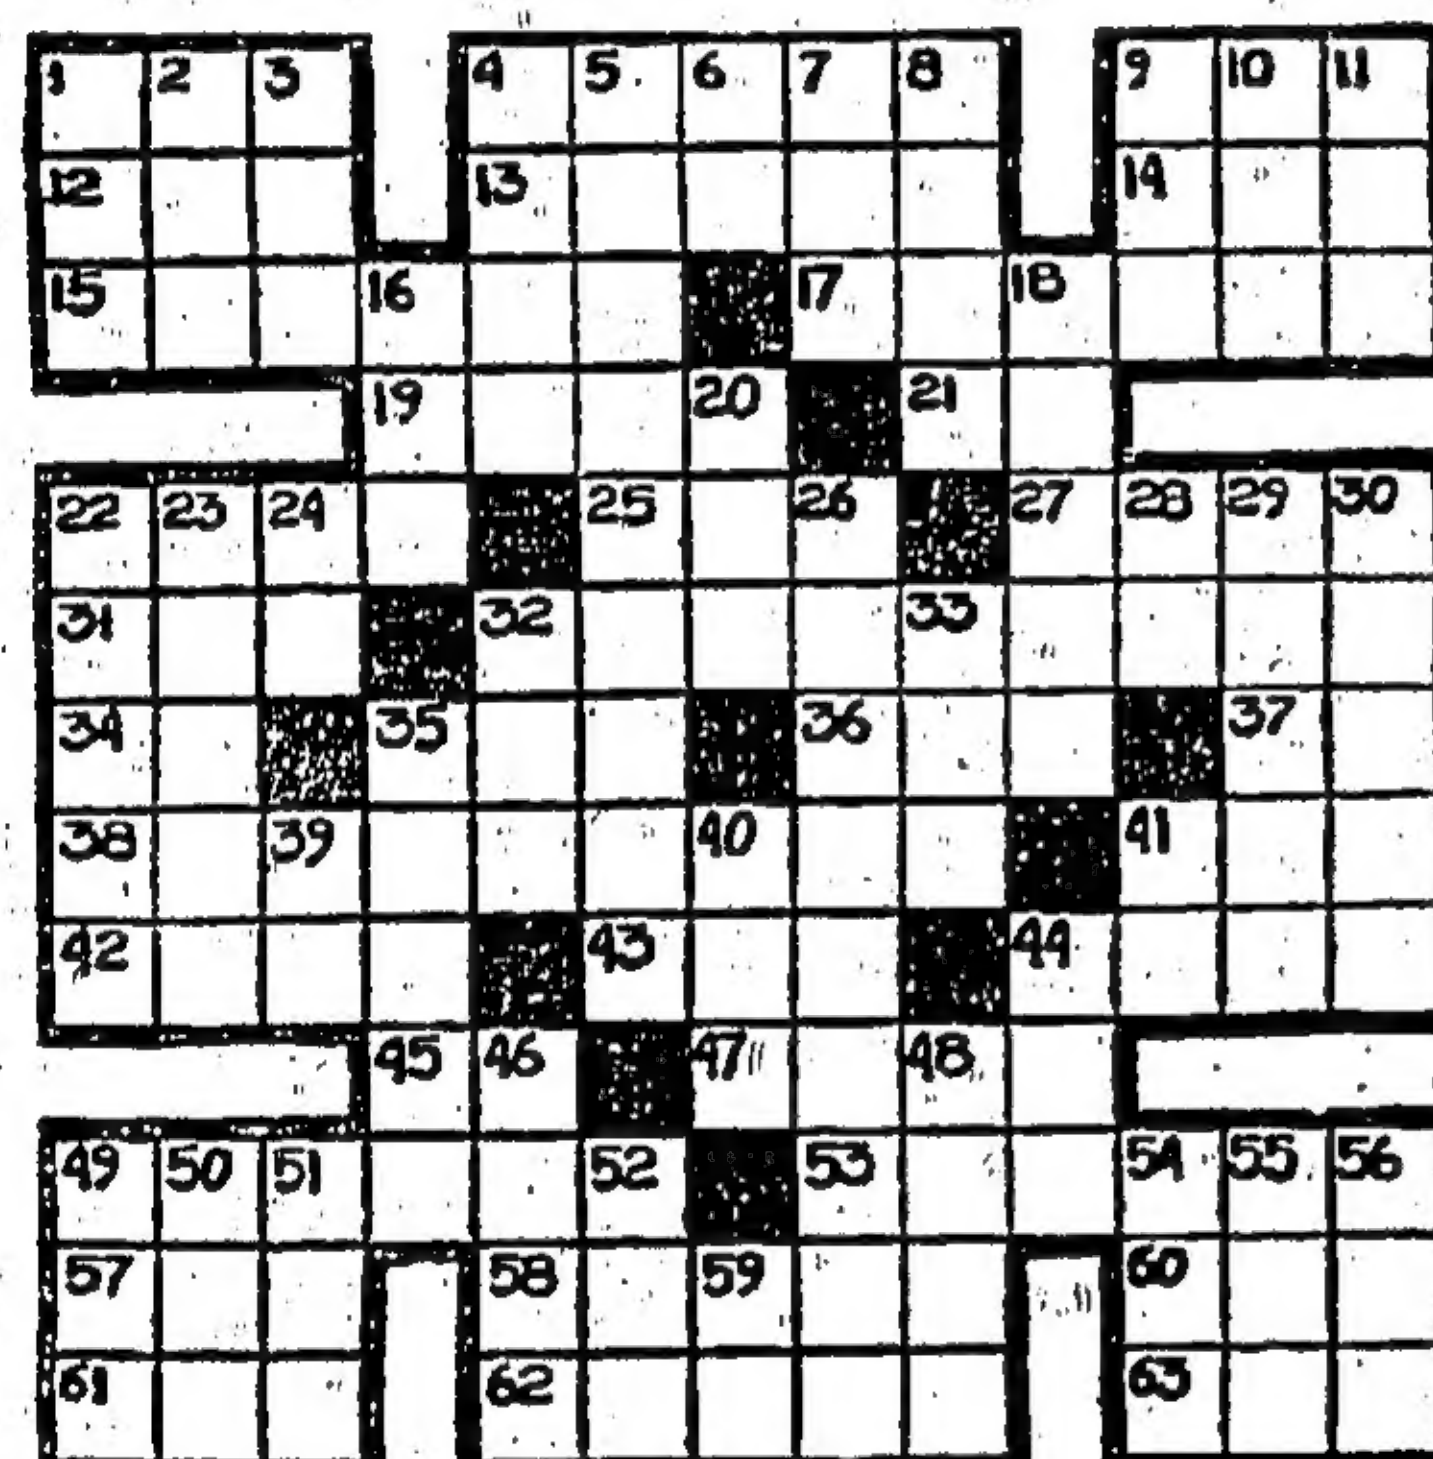

"How's business?" asked the President.
"Not so good, we're making little money now," sighed the head of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving.

"But I should think a short story writer would run out of ideas."
"They do—but then they can always write books."

"So you didn't find your mother's meals as good as they used to be?"
"No, she's going to a different delicatessen now."

First Golfer (telling fish story): "He was about as long as that last drive of yours."
Second Golfer: "Oh, really!"
"Yes, so I threw him back."

THE BLANKET

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

PICTURES AND PLAYS.

Startling charges are taking place in the Paris entertainment world.

The Moulin Rouge, one of the most famous music and dance halls of the French capital, has just closed its doors after being for a short time the home of a negro theatrical show, and is to become a cinema.

The Olympia, where all the old-time English and American musical comedies were produced, has closed down, and is also to reopen as a cinema.

It was announced that the Casino de Paris, familiar to thousands of visitors from London, has been sold by M. Leon Volterra, the legendary figure of the Parisian theatrical world.

When the war began M. Volterra, one of seven brothers, was a programme seller in the theatre he soon came to own. After selling programmes he purchased the concession for the theatre bar, and strode from success to success.

He purchased a horse for a joke one day in Brussels, where he owned a theatre, and next year won the French Grand National with it.

Mr. Samuel Barnard, of the Empire Theatre, Woolwich, a member of a family prominent in the history of music halls, has died in a London nursing home, aged eighty-four. His father, Mr. Dan Barnard, was at one time Chief Constable of Chatham, where he built Barnard's Music Hall. He was also the proprietor of a public house and skittle alley at Chatham, known as The Granby's Head, named after the same Marquess of Granby who lent his name to the tavern immortalised by Charles Dickens in "Pickwick Papers."

Mr. Daniel Barnard, who, with his brother, Mr. Dave Barnard, carries on the theatre at Woolwich, said: "It was my father who originated the twice-nightly performances in music halls and also the use of a gallery. One year my father, when only about seventeen, erected a gallery during his father's absence and gave two performances at the theatre to enable the service men, who had to be in barracks by 8 p.m., to attend. It was a wet week, and the house was packed at all performances, so the idea of a gallery and two houses was continued. Among the artists my father discovered Beatie Bellwood and Little Tick. My father, at one time ran the Alhambra at Hull, and engaged Dan Leno, before he was famous, for a fortnight at a salary of about £4 10s. a week. Dan Leno did one week and asked to be engaged the second to fulfil an important engagement. My father granted this request, and when Leno was earning £40 a week he returned and completed his contract at his original salary of £4 10s. a week."

Famous writers discussed sex and censorship in relation to the arts and literature at the international congress of the World League for Sexual Reform in London last month. Mr. Desmond MacCarthy said opinion down the ages showed an instinctive fear that unless the strong interest in sex was controlled it would destroy much that made life worth living. It was utterly impossible, however, to eradicate sex from art and literature. The censors did not know where to draw the line with much of the best literature. Mr. John van Druten, the dramatist, said the theatre was at least twenty years behind contemporary thought. The censorship was hardly to blame. It made an honest attempt to keep the theatre in line with general public opinion on sex questions. The ease with which an audience could be shocked by things which would in no way shock each individual member was quite extraordinary.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER.

DO YOU KNOW?

Jap silk, though it washes and wears everlastingly, is apt to lose the slight crispness that is its chief charm after the first time of washing.

It is a good idea to dissolve two or three lumps of sugar in the last rinsing water to bring back that little bit of stiffness. It gives the silk the right amount of "body" without making it hard and crackly.

Add a pinch of borax to the water to prevent Jap silk turning yellow.

That Old Rubber Bottle.

Don't throw away that rubber hot-water bottle when it springs a leak. It can be put to several uses in the home. The top can be used as a funnel, and the bag makes two excellent mats to use under hot dishes on a polished table. Cut these out neatly along the ridge that goes all round the outer edge of the bottle.

An old rubber bottle makes quite a serviceable kneeling mat when washing or polishing floors. Bits of old rubber can be used as domes on the bottom of chair legs to prevent them slipping on polished floors or linoleum.

Two Cookery Tips.

When the pie dish is too large for the quantity of meat or fruit you have to use, it is often a problem to know what to do to prevent the top crust from collapsing and becoming swamped in the juice or gravy.

To prevent this, lay a few clean wooden skewers across the dish before putting on the top lid of pastry. These support the pastry, so giving a good appearance to the pie, and preventing a gravy-soaked crust.

Another cookery tip. The water in which green vegetables are cooked will not boil over if a small piece of dripping is dropped in just as the water begins to boil. The dripping also helps to keep the greens a good colour.

SCHOOLDAYS

"DO PARENTS HELP?"

"Difficult children, indeed!" said the head of one of the best kindergartens in England. "I've yet to meet the child who's one-tenth as difficult as most parents are."

She told me that the first few weeks of every term had to be spent entirely on recovering lost ground. "I've had more than one case," she said, "of a stammer, reduced almost to nothing during the term, being back again in full force when the little sufferer returned after a long break."

It would be different if only parents would co-operate a little. But they won't. You'd think that when they've gone to great trouble to find a school whose system fits in with all their main ideas, they'd pull with us if only for the sake of consistency.

"Well, we have two kinds of parents, and it's hard to say which is the worse."

"One kind, though very up to date when they think hard about it, soon fall back into a very old-fashioned attitude. They feel that school's something that the child needs compensating for, and the compensation takes the form of letting the school's method slide during home life and holidays."

"The Prison Effects."

TAR STAINS.

Tar stains can be removed successfully from light-coloured garments if attended to at once. Remove as much as possible of the tar with the blunt edge of a knife, then cover the marks thickly with salty fat, such as salt butter, home-rendered lard, or goose-grease. Let this stay on for some hours, then scrape it off and wash the stains in benzine. Give them a thorough soaking, and if they are very bad a little dry washing power can be used with the benzine.

It is best wash the whole garments if possible; if not, rinse out the part that has been treated in clear, warm water, and iron with a cool iron while still damp, with a piece of muslin between the iron and the garment to absorb the moisture and prevent a water mark forming round the damp patch.

is simply non-existent. In everything except separation from their parents the little ones are busier, more interested and happier than at home. And, far from compensating, the parents would do better to imitate us when they have their children with them.

"The other sort of parent is the ultramodern sort who, not content with having chosen our system, must always be trying improvements. And even if the particular fads which appeal to the amateur are improvements, which they generally are not, they cost more than they are worth in the inconsistency which follows."

"Consistency comes first. Every child is a separate problem; and there may be more than one way of dealing with it, but only one can work at a time."

When a really good school is found, it is no good spoiling its chances by making yourself its strongest enemy."

DIVISION I.

H.K.F.C. v. K.O.S.B.

Playing on the H.K.F.C. ground,
the home team surprised the K.O.S.B. by running them to a goal and holding their own in the closing stages of the game. The result was in favour of the K.O.S.B. by three goals to two and the Club are in the position of scoring the greatest number of goals in any game against the K.O.S.B. defence. Being three goals down, the Club played up and two goals by Peers gave their supporters hopes that they would take a point from the leaders. Reeves was outstanding in the K.O.S.B.
attack and scored all three goals.
Quite early on Reeves beat Rodgers with a shot from close range but this was the only goal scored before
the interval.

The Club raised the hopes of their supporters with a dash on resuming but Davey sent Reeves in to beat Rodgers.

Reeves added another but a
change then came over the game,
Peers scoring twice for the Club.
The Club worked hard to level up
but the defence held out.

and Alexander.

R.A. v. ST. JOSEPH'S.

Played at Sookunpoo, the R.A. winning by five clear goals. The football was below the standard of senior teams, St. Joseph's being very weak except for Rocha in goal.
Walker opened the score from a corner kick and Allan soon put the Guns two up.

The second half was a repetition
of the first with the Gunners pressing strongly. Walker put them
three up and goals by Allan and Cotton gave them a five clear goals
victory.

R.A.—Fletcher; Oliver and Rawlings; Oliver, Taylor and Joyce;
Cotton, Gill, Allan, Walker and Fredericks.

St. Joseph's—Rocha; Hyder and Gomes; Rial, O. Omar and Leonard;
R. M. Omar, Sousa, T. Leonard,
Jackson and Fernandez.

SOUTH CHINA v. HONG KONG POLICE.

At Caroline Hill before a good attendance, South China defeated the Police by five goals to one. The game was much below what is expected in senior football, even Wynne having a day off. Chui
Kwok Luen opened the score, Fung
King Cheong got the second and Chui Kwok Luen again netted before
the interval.

The second half opened with a Police attack but Ng Po Kui went through the defence and beat Estall.
Chui Kwok Luen scored his third goal for South China and incidentally the fifth for his team. Before the final whistle sounded Johnson scored for the Police.

SOMERSET L.I. v. CLUB DE RECREIO.

Played at King's Park before a good attendance and ended in a win
for the S.L.I. by three clear goals.
Brown, of the Recreio, was injured
early in the game and retired. Occasional bursts by the home forwards were nipped by Hayward and Crawley. Palmer opened the score with a fast cross shot giving Lawrence no chance. The Somersets
continued to monopolise the game and a fine effort by Hayward gave them a two goal lead. Palmer got through the Recreio's defence and sent in a smashing shot that glanced in off the cross-bar. Half-time:
S.L.I. 3; Club de Recreio 0.

Although there was no scoring in the second half, the play was good and the Recreio defence played soundly. Towards the close the S.L.I. bombarded the Recreio goal but Lawrence dealt with shots from all angles.

Result:—
Somerst L.I. 3

Somerst L.I.—Hall; Hayward

son, Baker and Butcher.

Club de Recreio—Lawrence;
Silva Netto and Ogley; Assumpcao,
Remedios and Sousa; Beltrao, C.
Gosano, Roza Pereira, Ward and Brown.

This game was played on the Railway ground and ended in a goalless draw. Kowloon were unlucky in having to concede a point in this game for they had the better of the exchanges but lost many chances.

Both defences were very sound but forwards were weak. The Navy went out from the kick-off and Kernick was stopped by Gillett in the nick of time. Give and take play was the order although Kowloon were on top when the interval arrived. In the second half Kernick was prominent for the Navy but was inclined to keep the ball too much to himself. The final whistle sounded with Kowloon attacking strongly.

Result:—

Kowloon—Nicholls; Gillett and

brook, McKelvie and Miles.

THE JUNIORS.

RECREIO v. FOWLOON.

Played at King's Park this game ended in a draw, the teams sharing four goals. Contes, who played a fine game for Fowloon, opened the score. Recreio got on terms thanks to J. Santos. The second half was contested at a good pace and Re-
creio took the lead through J.
Santos. Spary eventually levelled
the scores.

UNIVERSITY v. SOUTH CHINA "A".

This match was played on the Kowloon F.C. ground and produced
the highest score of the day. South China "A" were anxious to improve their goal average, and left their opponents standing. Ip Koon Ning opened and further goals were added before the interval by Ip Koon Ning, Chan Yee Tin (2) and Cheng Chit Ming. With a lead of five goals South China eased up a trifle, but Chen Chit Ming added
two more before the close.

Result:—
University 0

CHINESE "A" v. K.O.S.B.

Played at the Stadium unusual interest attached itself to this match as both teams had hitherto obtained full points. A very interesting game took place, the Borders eventually wearing their opponents down and winning by three goals to one. Over-excitement spoiled a lot of useful openings during the first half, both teams missing chances. Nothing was scored until early in the second half when Shen Pin beat Fox with a shot which struck the upright and went in.

The Borders set up a hot attack
and were level almost immediately, Crawley being the scorer. From now on K.O.S.B. had the game in their hands, and after Stevens had added a clever point, Wong Yan
Sing diverted the ball into his own goal in an endeavour to clear
Mason's centre.

Result:—

K.O.S.B. 3

K.O.S.B.—

ROYAL NAVY v. CHINESE "B".

Played at Caroline Hill this game produced any amount of really good football. A draw is a very fair re-fection of the run of the play, for while the Chinese were the nipper
and faster forwards, the Navy defence was superior in every department. No scoring took place during the opening half both goalies ac-
quitting themselves in great style.
Sui Din Lin played an exceptionally fine game between the Chinese sticks, and considering his stature
some of his saves were quite remarkable. Chinese took the lead early in the second half, Ward having bad luck in putting the ball through his own goal when heavily pressed.
The Navy were not done with, however and recovered when Sorbie accepted a pass from Goodridge and gave Sui no chance with a fast drive. The game was contested in a fine sporting spirit throughout,
free kicks for infringements being very rare.

Result:—

EWO v. SOMERSETS.

This game was played on the St.
Joseph's ground and ended in a win for the Somersets by four goals to one. A penalty to the Somersets was converted by Mead. Denmead crossed over with the Somersets by two goals to nil. Ewo played better in the second half but Mead and Neil scored again for the military and then Fung King Yui scored for Ewo.

EASTERN v. ST. JOSEPH'S.

Played within the racecourse and ended in a win for Eastern by three goals to one. Sallah scored for St.
Joseph's. Crossing over Ng Ying
Kay scored for Eastern and before the whistle sounded Sallah scored again.

H.K.F.C. v. R.A.M.C.

Played on the H.K.F.C. ground
and ended in a draw of three goals
all. White opened the score for the Club and Goodman levelled up for the R.A.M.C. Dodson gave the Medicals the lead and the same player put his side further ahead.
Being two down the Club played up strongly and goals by Wilson and Bell made the scores equal. Without any addition to the score the final whistle sounded.

R.A. v. SOUTH CHINA "B".

Played on the Garrison ground
and ended in a win for the visitors
by the odd goal in seven. The Gunners attacked strongly from the kick

DRAMATIC EVENING.

PLAYS GIVEN BY VARSITY ARTS ASSOCIATION.

The Great Hall of the University
was well filled on Saturday night when the Varsity Association of the Varsity gave a Dramatic Evening
in aid of the fund for the University Women's Hostel.

Two short plays were presented,
"The Mere Man" by women
undergraduates and "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler" by the men. The young ladies all looked very attractive and their performance caused a good deal of laughter and applause, though many people must have felt that it was a pity that they could not have had better
material through which to express their talents. "The Mere Man"
after so great a display of charm had a harder task to please the audience, and it must be confessed that they did not surpass the ladies in elocution or stage presence.

A very pleasant time was passed,
the two songs "Sweet June" and
"Summer" contributed by Mrs. A.
M. Bowes Smith, who was accompanied by her husband, being a charming interlude to the more serious business of the evening.
Judging by the size of the audience, a useful sum will have been added to the fund for the University Women's Hostel. The Hall was well decorated and many expressions of congratulation were heard on the clever stage decorations.

CANTON AND ITS CURRENCY.

FINANCE EXPERT OFF TO NANKING.

A BIG RAILWAY LOAN PROJECTED.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, October 27. Mr. Chow Min Chu, managing director of the local branch of the Central Bank of China is going to Nanking on Wednesday to confer with Mr. T. V. Soong on the question of redeeming the bank's notes. It will be remembered that a promise to give silver in exchange for 81 and 83 notes on November 1 had to be cancelled and the 10th has been mentioned as a possible, though not very probable date.

THE CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY.

A message from Nanking states that the Ministry of Communications has decided to float a loan of $20,000,000 to pay off the outstanding loans in respect of the Canton-Hankow Railway and to complete the remainder of the line.

The loan will be floated early next year and will be secured on the profits of the Canton-Samsui Railway.

ADVENTUROUS FLIGHT TO HANKOW.

Word has been received from the North that the three aeroplanes which left Canton last Thursday morning for Hankow finally reached their destination on Friday afternoon at about one o'clock after taking a circuitous route through Kiangsi. On account of heavy fog the aeroplanes had to change their course and instead of going by Hunan, as originally planned, they flew westward into Kiangsi. Their idea was to pass through Nanchang, the capital of Kiangsi, and move northward to the Yangtze River, and then follow the river up to Hankow. But owing to the extra length of the flight they ran out of gasoline and were forced to land at Wu Ching, some 180 miles north of Nanchang. The landing was accomplished without any difficulty, but no gasoline could be purchased at this small place. An order was at once sent to Nanchang and the gasoline arrived next morning. After their tanks had been refilled, the flyers resumed their journey, arriving in Hankow in the afternoon.

The "The Spirit of Canton," was to have gone to Hankow with the other of the planes, but it was decided not to send it at the last minute.

CANTON AND BRITISH INDUSTRIES FAIR.

The British General Consulate at Shamoon is requesting the commercial community of Canton through the General Chamber of Commerce to participate in the coming British Industries Fair to be held at London, and Birmingham, next February. The local Chamber is deeply interested in the proposition and is glad to co-operate with the British promoters. It has sent a circular letter to all its constituent members in the city endorsing the proposition of the British General Consulate and asking them to take an active part in the fair. The different shops in the city have not as yet made their replies to the Chamber, but it is expected they will do so in the course of the next few days. Probably a big collection of typically Cantonese products such as silk embroideries, carved ivory, lacquer, furniture, and the like, will be sent to the exhibition.

An officer of the British General Consulate, in an interview with the representative of the Daily Press, said that the British Industries Fair in 1930 will be a big international event and he would like to see Canton taking an active part in it.

NEW MOTOR ROADS.

PROGRESS IN "NO. 8 AREA."

A Canton paper states that construction of roads has been progressing apace in the "No. 8 Highway Construction Area." The highway between Tsinghai and Canton is being made by 1,400 workers and is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The highway between Tungia and Canton has been completed and will be open to traffic in a few days. The road between Fuyuen and Kongmoon has also been finished and a great number of motor services are starting already.

STURDY BEGGARS.

SET TO WORK IN CANTON.

The governing body of the Asylum for the Poor in Canton has been taking drastic action in rounding up all beggars in the city. (Continued at foot of next column).

ROUND THE COURTS.

HAWKER GUILTY OF BRIBERY.

At Central Magistracy on Saturday, a Chinese hawker was fined $2, or four days' hard labour in default, for obstruction in Wanchai Road and $10 or 14 days' imprisonment in default for offering a bribe to a constable.

When the hawker appeared before the Magistrate at an earlier hearing, he had alleged that the Indian constable who arrested him had asked him for money and when he refused to give anything he was arrested. It was further alleged that on the way to the Police Station, the constable put his hand in the defendant's pocket and extracted thirty cents with the remark that "it was for curry."

The Magistrate was told yesterday by an interpreter at No. 2 Police Station that the hawker when he was examined at the Police Station declared that the Indian had put his hand into his (the hawker's) pocket.

His Worship observed that he could not help thinking that something had been going on in the vicinity of the matched market in Wanchai Road, but that the defendant, as in the case recently heard in connection with Whitfield Market, was not particular who he "came back" on.

In registering a conviction, his Worship said that the story of the defendant was a senseless one and pointed out that if the constable had asked for a bribe and subsequently put his hand in the hawker's pocket to extract the money, he would be mad to bring in a charge of bribery.

STOLE BECAUSE HE WAS HUNGRY.

"No matter how hungry you are, you must not steal," said Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday to a young Chinese who was charged with unlawful possession of a piece of cooked pork which he was suspected of having stolen. Sergeant Banks said that the defendant was stopped in Kowloon City carrying the pork and when questioned admitted that he had stolen it from a place where a wedding feast was going on because he was hungry. The defendant was a street sleeper and an orphan. The Magistrate discharged the youth with a caution.

$250 FINE FOR LOTTERY TICKETS.

Charged with unlawful possession of 383 popis lottery tickets, a Chinese with two previous convictions for a similar offence, was fined $250 (or four months' hard labour) by Mr. Whyte Smith. The defendant who was arrested at 1004, Canton Road, pleaded guilty. A youth was also charged with helping to write out the tickets. He pleaded guilty and was cautioned. The Magistrate warned him that he would not be let off like that again but would get a flogging.

A BASKET AS SECURITY FOR RENT.

A Chinese tenant of a flat was charged with attempting to pawn a rattan basket which was not his own property. It was stated that the complainant was a sub-tenant of defendant's and owed him $4 rent. Complainant left and the defendant then took the rattan basket, the property of the complainant, to the pawn shop but on being unable to produce the key, the pawnbroker became suspicious and had him arrested.

The case failed, however, when the complainant in evidence admitted that he had given the basket to the defendant as security for his rent.

The Magistrate dismissed the case and remarked that the evidence on both sides was unsatisfactory.

At present, the Asylum has over two thousand inmates, who are housed, fed and taught trades of various kinds. Some of the inmates escaped to resume begging as they are too lazy to work. On account of this dozens of beggars may still be seen in the city.

During the past few days, the Asylum staff has been collecting them. Those who refuse to enter or re-enter the Asylum are arrested and taken to the Asylum whether they like it or not.

"RED" RABBLE IN RETREAT.

PRESSURE ON SWATOW RELIEVED.

According to a report from Swatow, the Reds under Chu Tak and Mo Chuk Tung have evacuated Taipei district in eastern Kwangtung, and retreated in the direction of the Fukien to avoid the Canton troops under General Chiang Kwong Nai which are marching against them.

Even with the strong force now detailed to suppress this rabble the task is likely to be long and tedious.

LAWN BOWLS SEASON ENDS.

RECREIO PLAYER WINS COLONY CHAMPIONSHIP.

SPEY ROYAL CUP GOES TO TAIKOO RECREATION CLUB.

PRESIDENT'S KEEN INTEREST.

Youth triumphed over age and experience in the contest for the lawn bowls Open Championship of the Colony on Saturday on the Civil Service ground when R. F. Luz, a "star" of the Club de Recreio, decisively defeated J. Ferguson, the veteran Taikoo player and the holder of the championship. The Recreio player, despite his youth and smaller experience, won by 12 shots, his accuracy in the last eight heads of the game having the champion badly beaten.

Taikoo Recreation Club, winners of the Spey Royal Cup in 1927, again won the trophy by defeating Civil Service, the Cup-holders.

OPEN SINGLES FINAL.

There was little in the game up to the thirteenth head (which included a dead end), when the scores were eight all. In the next Luz drew the shot with his third wood and added another counter. Following this up with a single, he then scored his first three.

Ferguson scored his last single in the seventeenth head. Luz played brilliantly to win the next three heads. The nineteenth was the best in the game when Luz put in three touchers. Ferguson shifted the jack to lay the shot with a pretty draw on the fore-hand. Luz cut out the wood with one of his accurate back-hand strokes and still claimed his three shots. In the last head Luz put in two woods near the jack, and placed an effective blocker a yard in front with his last wood. Ferguson essayed a drive which removed the covering wood without making any difference.

In the last stages of the game Ferguson was very unfortunate in often narrowly missing the jack or going through by just a few inches. The scores were, Ferguson's appearing first:—

SPEY CUP FINAL.

On their own ground, Civil Service surrendered to Taikoo the Spey Cup which they won last season after defeating Craigengower. The visitors won 21 shots to 11, the latter score being all singles.

Taikoo led all the way by a small margin which they increased to six shots (11-5) half way through the game. Civil Service rallied towards the end to reduce the difference to four shots at the end of the nineteenth head.

Grimmitt came in for much applause when he drew the shot in the twentieth head. Laing's instructions to his skip to knock out the wood and the jack were faithfully carried out by Wallace with a medium drive which sent the jack sideways to count six. Civil Service took the last head. Teams and scores:—

PRESENTATION OF TROPHIES.

His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government (the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G.), who is the President of the Lawn

Bowls Association, reviewed the doings of the season prior to asking Mrs. E. Wylie, wife of the Vice-President, to distribute the trophies.

The President referred to the wonderful progress of lawn bowls in the Colony as shown by the increasing number of Clubs in the League and the demand for more greens. As an example, he would mention that the Club de Recreio had had their greens for only two years. Last season they entered the Second Division and won the top place.

Club de Recreio's Record.

This season they entered a team in the First Division, performing admirably, and they wound up by providing the winner of the Open Singles Championship of the Colony. On that feat he considered that the Club de Recreio had to be warmly complimented. (Hear, hear.)

He personally had watched the game that afternoon with the keenest interest. He had been told by an experienced player that this was the best display of lawn bowls he had ever witnessed in the final. On that he had to congratulate Mr. Luz for his fine display. (Applause.) It had been a tradition in local lawn bowls history that a player should not win the Open Singles Championship twice in succession. Mr. Luz had seen to the upholding of that tradition! (Laughter.) Moreover, youth had been pitted against experience—the older and the younger generations of lawn bowls—and Mr. Luz had won. When they considered that the scores were level—8-8 at one stage, when it gave promise of being a particularly fine and close game, they would agree with him that Mr. Luz's victory was all the more commendable. They had to congratulate both Mr. Luz and the Club de Recreio for the fine display they had witnessed. (Applause.)

Taikoo Congratulated.

In addition to the Open Singles Championship they had witnessed that afternoon a very fine exhibition of lawn bowls in the final of the Spey Royal Cup. He considered that the standard of play here was quite good, and he congratulated the Taikoo R.C. on their win.

Referring to the recent series of Interport games, His Excellency said that, on behalf of the Lawn Bowls Association, he had to thank the Hong Kong players for putting up such a good fight against an experienced team. Did not "Sandy" Malcolm, the Shanghai skip, say of the Hong Kong players: "Aye, they were too good for us; they were excellent players, every one of them." That was praise, indeed, coming from the lips of such an experienced player as "Sandy" Malcolm. (Hear, hear.)

Plaques for League Winners.

His Excellency expressed the thanks of the Association to the donors of prizes, especially Messrs. A. S. Watson & Company for the Spey Royal Cup. He also referred to Taikoo's sporting spirit in agreeing to play Civil Service on their own ground which was much appreciated by the spectators who were able to witness both the finals. In closing he mentioned that the Association had decided this season to give plaques in place of flags to the League winners. This was much better than flags which were liable to get moth-eaten, and the plaques could be kept in the Clubs as a permanent record of their success.

At the close of the distribution of prizes, Mrs. Wylie received a silver scent spray as a memento from the Association. Cheers were called for Mrs. Wylie and for His Excellency.

Prize Winners.

Open Championship:—R. F. Luz; runner-up, J. Ferguson; third prize, A. W. Grimmer; fourth prize, U. M. Omar.

League Championship Shield and Plaque:—Senior Division, Craigengower C.C.; Junior Division, Taikoo R.C.

Spey Royal Cup and Replicas:—Taikoo R.C. Players of the Civil Service team each received a bottle of Spey Royal whisky.

Letters of administration have been granted to the widow, Cheng Ma Mui, residing at Russell Street.

FURNITURE REMOVERS!

IMPUDENT GANG RAID MARRIED QUARTERS.

A further attempt to burgle D Block Married Quarters, Kennedy Road, was frustrated during the early hours of yesterday morning owing to the occupants of No. 1, Mr. and Mrs. H. Reg. Latham, being awakened by the restlessness of their dog.

It was discovered that a gang of Chinese of the coolie class, were actually engaged in removing the furniture from the front verandah, and when the alarm was raised, all the thieves managed to get away in spite of the fact that the police were telephoned for from Headquarters House, and were quickly on the scene.

A European detective discovered a large wooden arm chair abandoned in a nallah near Kennedy Road, whilst a long piece of cloth which was identified by Mrs. Latham was found on a lamp post in Kennedy Road.

Everything goes to indicate that this was a concerted effort to make a big haul, and that but for the warning given by the dog this might have been successful. This is the second time within a month and the third time within twelve months that Mr. Latham's flat has been entered. The police are still investigating the matter.

OPIUM PIPES FOR HIRE.

YOUTH'S ENTERPRISE ON LOCAL STEAMER.

That a boy of nine was doing a regular business by letting out opium pipes to passengers between Hong Kong and Kowloon on the Paul Beau and that he took up smuggling opium ashore as a side line at Hong Kong was disclosed by Revenue Officers when the boy was charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton yesterday, with possession of 2 tins of the drug.

The Magistrate asked the youth if he knew what the inside of a jail was like and on the boy replying in the negative, he directed that the boy be shown the jail.

When the defendant was brought into Court again, he was told that if he was again brought before the Magistrate he would have to spend six months in jail.

The defendant: I did it unknowingly. Mr. Hamilton: "It's no good you telling me stories. I know all about you. Your home is in Kowloon and you go up and down in the Paul Beau dealing in opium." Discharged with a caution, this time.

To Inspector Shannon his Worship said: Perhaps he won't be caught now for about a week. The Inspector: Probably only three days, your Worship.

AN APPEAL TO THE NATION.

CHIANG KAI SHEK'S NEW PROCLAMATION.

KUOMINCHUN MUST GO!

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

NANKING, Oct. 27. Chiang Kai Shek issued two proclamations this evening, one calling the Nationalist troops to arms to fight the Kuominchun, and the other addressed to the entire nation, declaring that the rebels and the Government cannot both survive, but from the crisis one must perish.

Unless the Kuominchun is eliminated, the Marshal continues, the country can never be peaceful, and it will be impossible to proceed with the reconstruction programme.

Chiang Kai Shek expresses indignation at the Kuominchun, at attempt to bring the nation into turmoil and suffering such as characterized the days when the Communists held Hankow and Canton, and militarists controlled the Chinese Government.

It is the problems within which are bringing difficulties from without. The entire nation is urged to support the Central Government in its fight against the Kuominchun.

It is believed that following the issue of these proclamations, Chiang Kai Shek intends to leave for the front in a day or two as head of the Government forces.

AGREEMENT REACHED? MYSTERY OF LOYANG OCCUPATION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

HANKOW, Oct. 27. Tension is somewhat relaxed and a full report is present on all fronts.

Conflicting reports continue to be received re the alleged occupation of Loyang. Chang Chih Chung, in an interview, stated that the Kuominchun has actually evacuated the city, but Nationalist troops have not yet occupied it. This movement is at present impossible to explain, but apparently some agreement has been concluded between the opposing sides. Chang Chih Chung again intimated that the Government was trying to settle the trouble by mediation, and further stated that fighting had so far been very desultory.

Wuhan remains quiet, and troop movements have practically ceased, while headquarters have forbidden the further impressing of coolies.

NEW FRENCH CABINET.

SEATS OFFERED TO SOCIALISTS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PARIS, Oct. 28. At a meeting under the presidency of M. Daladier, the Radical Socialist Parliamentary Party decided to accept the invitation to form a Cabinet, and invite the Socialists to participate.

The Radical Socialist Party Congress unanimously expressed fidelity to the League of Nations, and the Geneva Protocol of 1924, stating that European peace should be guaranteed by an Anglo-French entente and a Franco-German rapprochement, and declared its intention of continuing the task of liquidating post-war problems on the basis of the Hague Agreement and the Young Plan.

PARIS, Oct. 27. M. Daladier has accepted the invitation to form a Cabinet.

After a long talk with M. Doumergue, M. Daladier said he would try to form a Cabinet with a Socialist executive.

He said he has been considering sending a letter to the leader, M. Leon Blum, proposing co-operation with the Radical Socialists, and offering the Socialists a number of seats in the Cabinet.

AMERICAN GRAIN GROWERS.

BIG GRANT FROM FARM BOARD.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. The Federal Farm Board has placed $100,000,000 at the disposal of the grain co-operative societies, and has pledged its aid in demanding more from Congress if necessary.

The Board is of opinion that prevailing wheat prices are too low.

ITALIAN CROWN PRINCE IN ROME.

A RAPTUREOUS WELCOME.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

ROME, Oct. 27. The Prince of Piedmont (Crown Prince Umberto), was rapturously welcomed on his return from Brussels. He acknowledged the popular enthusiasm from the Palazzo Balcony.

THE WUHU MUTINY.

AN EYEWITNESS'S STORY.

VICTORY FOR CHIANG KAI SHEK'S TROOPS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

A vivid description of conditions in Wuhu during the short-lived revolt which occurred when the 8th Regiment, started a movement against General Chiang Kai Shek and the Nanking Government was given in letters to Shanghai from a member of the staff of an American missionary society.

The hills referred to are near the Rutherford and Swire hulks about half a mile from the city proper and the mission property mentioned is just behind the Lion Hill. Tipingfou is about 80 miles to the southwest of Wuhu, as the crow flies.

The letters follow:—

Oct. 18.

"As I write, there's a battle going on here. Apparently there was a division or split in General Chiang Kai Shek's troops—and they decided to settle matters first. For a while this morning it looked bad, the forces against Chiang were winning—which would mean backing up toward and across Lion Hill with probable looting on the way. Then, toward noon, three boatloads of Chiang's troops arrived, and they seemed to be pushing. A few stray bullets have come pretty close to different people. All the business people are on H.M.S. Cricket and we were invited down too. They seemed very sure there would be no danger except from stray bullets, and that was why the others had gone down. We had some Chinese in with us—and staying in our house seemed preferable to going to a crowded gunboat with a pack of hysterical women! So we closed the shutters and barricaded generally, and did a little packing."

A Tiring Business.

"At present we are all over at the Staters' compound so as to be in one place if we should be sent for by the gunboat. But that does not seem probable. This is certainly a nuisance. One gets tired of never really unpacking and living in a civilized fashion. We are hoping we can go to our respective homes some time this afternoon—but the battle still continues bombs, machine guns, and single shots—and we may have to stay together here to-night."

LATER.

At 7 p.m. we decided to come home to-night. Chinese say "the killed were not a few." One said "four out of every seven are killed. They certainly went at it hot and heavy."

The Morning After.

Oct. 19.

"In Wuhu, we have had the 5th and 8th Divisions of the 3rd Army. All of these men were supposedly loyal to General Chiang Kai Shek and Nanking."

About 1 a.m. on the 18th, the 5th Division suddenly decided to take matters in their own hands. There are two versions:—first, that they intended to loot the city, second, that they were going to seize the city and turn against General Chiang Kai Shek and Nanking. I have thus far been unable to verify which is correct. There was some looting but evidently of no serious nature. Rumours state that the 5th Division outnumbered the 8th by two to one.

"Heavy fighting began about 3 a.m. and continued until about 3 p.m. There was almost constant shooting of rifles and considerable use of rapid fire guns and heavy artillery—the noise was terrific. Fires were started in several parts of the city, the worst being near the electric light plant (there were no lights last night but fortunately there was a splendid full moon). Thus far, we have not been able to learn the exact number of casualties. We do know that a great many died were killed or wounded and the hospital is full of these latter. A blind man and a cripple were lost in one of the fires. Business was at a standstill and no one dared to go on the streets."

No Serious Danger.

"After 3 a.m., sleep was impossible and we were all up and about. Soon after daylight, the fighting began to shift from the centre of the city over to the hill just east of us back of the Wuhu Academy. Bullets began to whizz over our place and some fell in the compound."

"At no time was there any serious danger as long as we kept out of the way of stray bullets. It was possible to watch the battle, see the guns firing, cannon firing and aeroplanes overhead. About 1 p.m., it seemed as though the 8th Division would lose out although they had shown fine fighting spirit, but when things looked the worst, a transport came in, bringing fresh troops from Nanking—some one had done some quick thinking and quicker moving. As soon as these men were on shore, they organized and marched to the hill back of the Academy and it was very soon evident that they had saved the day and, within an hour, the 5th division were retreating toward Tai-pingfou."

LATER.

"At 3 p.m. on the 19th all is well. City is very quiet. Soldiers are gone. Dead are being buried and wounded being cared for. All signs indicate that the trouble is entirely over."

INTERPORT TEAM SELECTED.

H. R. B. HANCOCK CAPTAINS XI.

By the courtesy of the Selection Committee, I learn that the following have been chosen to represent the Colony against Shanghai:

D. J. M. Anderson.
W. Brace.
A. C. F. Bowker.
E. G. Finch.
E. B. Hancock (Captain).
H. Owen Hughes.
T. E. Pearce.
Capt. J. R. Reynolds.
A. Reid.
J. E. Richardson.
Lt.-Col. F. J. Wyatt.

Reserves:—
A. H. Musson.
H. V. Parker.
F. Zimmern.
E. B. Reed.

Those selected will play against Shanghai, if Captain Reynolds can get away. There appears to be some doubt about this at present owing to his military duties.

The only great surprise is the omission of Parker, and the inclusion of Alan Reid. Those of us who have seen the latter bowling know that his medium-fast left-hand deliveries have steadily improved through the trials. As a bat he is a bit of a gambler, but if he gets going with his hitting he is liable to upset any bowling. It is hard lines on Parker, who has bowled very well for the last two seasons, but it is quite on the cards he will play against Malaya.

I will make some notes on the team in my article on Friday next. But in passing it should be noted that Richardson's selection is an eminently sound bit of work.

R. ABBET.

AIRMAN CAUSES ANXIETY.

A LANDING IN PARIS.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 25. News was received this morning that a British airman who left Croydon for Kenya yesterday, had arrived in Paris.

Some anxiety had been experienced owing to lack of news of the aeroplane, especially owing to the fact that there was a heavy storm during the afternoon. Calls for news of the airman were sent out by the French broadcasting stations last night.

It is understood the aeroplane suffered no damage in yesterday's storm, but the pilot thought it advisable to land and await more favourable conditions; but his companions intend to continue their journey to Kenya.

NEW "MORRIS" VENTURE.

MASS PRODUCTION OF LORRIES.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 26. The Daily Mail says that Sir William Morris, the well-known British motor manufacturer, has reconditioned and equipped near Birmingham a large factory to produce lorries of from fifty hundredweight to ten tons capacity, at a rate of from fifty to one hundred per week.

The factory covers 28 acres, and been equipped at a cost of £250,000. When the vehicles are in full production, it will employ 3,000 hands.

MUSOLINI AGAIN!

TYPICAL MESSAGE TO FASCISTS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

ROME, Oct. 25. "Neither intrigue from within nor attack from without can destroy my regime," declared Mussolini in a message to the "Blackshirts" throughout Italy at the seventh anniversary of the Fascist revolution, affirming that no observer unblinded by prejudice could fail to see that Italy was advancing on all fronts with the ordered advance and steady tread of a mobilized army.

Protest From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.

The State Department has instructed the Embassy at Rome to make representations to Italy regarding reports that American citizens of Italian extraction are being pressed into the service of the Italian army.

GOVERNMENT'S BIG PROGRAMME.

CONFIDENT OF ULTIMATE SUCCESS.

NOT CONCERNED ABOUT OPPOSITION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 26. Mr. J. H. Thomas, in an after-dinner speech in London this evening, predicted that he would still be a member of the Government four years from now.

Mr. Snowden, speaking at Sheffield, said that if the Government were permitted to remain for four years they would appeal to the country, and would be confident of a return, not merely to office, but to power.

This is the spirit in which Ministers will meet when Parliament re-opens on October 28. They appear to be unperturbed by the outcry of their opponents as to their "failure." They will, inter alia, deal with unemployment the figures for which are increasing weekly, much to the bitterness of their "Left" wing members who complain about the continuance of defects in the administration of unemployment insurance.

It is Miss Margaret Bondfield who will bear the brunt of the attack. Her Labour critics demand that if Mr. Thomas cannot find work for all, she must find maintenance for the workless.

Perhaps the most crucial immediate issue is the anxiety over the miners' question of hours. The interview between the miners' leaders and the Cabinet Coal Committee at Downing Street on Friday is reported as being very heated especially when the miners learned that the Government's proposals were not yet ready. The miners' officials, after receiving a promise that proposals would be ready on October 30, decided to call a national delegate conference on November 5, with a view to deciding how to consult the men in the coalfields.

Otherwise, Parliament is assured of a full programme till Christmas. Precedence will be given to the Widows' Pensions Bill, the Coal Mining Industry Bill, and the Unemployment Insurance Bill, for which the Government claims the urgency for a decision.

Conservative leaders will not move an amendment at the second reading of the Pensions Bill, despite the outcry as to its cost. This case is regarded by the Ministerialists as an example of strategic discretion, and strengthens the Government belief that their work during the recess has so strengthened their position in the country that their opponents hesitate to exploit opportunities of defeating, or even embarrassing the Government.

SOLVING MINERS' TROUBLES.

GOVERNMENT'S NEW PROPOSALS.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 25. After a meeting to-day between the Cabinet Committee and officials of the Miners' Federation, it was stated that the final proposals of the Government regarding the miners' industry would be given in writing to the Miners' Federation next Wednesday.

The Government is prepared to redeem its election pledges to amend the eight hours day Act of the late Conservative regime by substituting for it a seven hours day.

But the Government cannot guarantee that there shall be no reduction of wages. They are not possessors of the power to do so. The most they can do—and they are seeking to do it—is to obtain assurance from coal owners that they will not reduce wages. Thus, so far, it is stated that assurance has not been forthcoming.

Owners contend that the reduction of hours would lead to a reduction of output, as the foreign market could be retained only by reducing the basic rates of wages. But, in any case, the Government intends to proceed with legislation for reducing hours, and it is proposed that this shall be operative in April of next year.

An Experiment.

RUOBY, Oct. 26. The meeting of Executive of the Miners' Federation, tentatively fixed for Tuesday, will be held on Wednesday evening and continued on Thursday. The delegate conference of the miners will assemble on the following Tuesday, and will have an opportunity of examining the proposals, and will also decide upon the method of consulting the members and obtaining their opinion. The conference, which will not be qualified to take a decision, may decide to put the proposal to a ballot vote in all districts.

The Manchester Guardian points out that this is an experiment, and the results, as in 1926, are often far from being in the best interests of the Miners' Federation. As an alternative to the conference, a second conference may be called, in which delegates would come with authority to express the decisions of the districts.

BETTER BRITISH RAILWAYS.

CONCERTED EFFORTS FOR IMPROVEMENT.

GOVERNMENT INTEREST.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 26. Mr. Herbert Morrison, Minister of Transport, in a speech last night referred to the various activities of the Government in connection with railways.

Under the Development Act, he said, railway companies had been invited to submit proposals for re-equipment, with a view to improving the efficiency of the railway system. A large number of proposals were being received. Some schemes already have been authorized while a considerable number of others would come forward soon.

The Government had had under consideration the problem of electrification of the main line railways. He had an open mind upon the economic and traffic aspects of the matter, though he had no doubts from the point of view of public amenity.

The purpose of the Committee which had been appointed, under the chairmanship of Lord Weir, was to examine this question primarily as a technical and business proposition.

"BOMBSHELL" IN KAO YING CASE.

A SUBTLE DEFENCE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

NANKING, Oct. 26. Strong contentions made by the defence that the accused had not violated any of China's opium laws when he became involved in the drug smuggling case in San Francisco last July, but that he was being prosecuted for the violation of laws which did not exist at the material time, at the trial of Mr. Kao Ying, caused a sudden halt to-day.

Judge Chow is adjourning the case indefinitely, to allow the State attorney's time for further investigation.

The result of the defence's bombshell was that practically no progress was made to-day. Previously, however, the defence contended that Mr. Kao Ying was in no way involved, having only carried out his duties in accordance with the regulations governing his official actions.

Pretty Mrs. Kao Ying stated that the eleven trunks found to contain opium by the San Francisco customs officials were the property of a mysterious Mr. "Chen Sen," and maintained that she was duped by persons whom she looked up on as friends. She said that she met Chen Sen and his wife at Shanghai in February, and in Hong Kong in June. Chen Sen asked her to take "some baggage" to the United States. She consented, and the baggage was placed on her steamer without her seeing it. She had no idea there were as many as eleven trunks, or that they contained opium, until she was informed of the facts at San Francisco.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN LONDON.

PREPARING FOR THE FRAY.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 25. Great activity is developing in connection with the coming Municipal Elections.

In London, the Municipal elections are held once in three years, when all the members of the Council retire.

In the other 343 cities and boroughs, one-third of the Councilors retire each year and the elections are therefore held each year. The elections this year in these 343 cities and boroughs will be marked by a great effort on the part of the Labour Party to achieve successes similar to those which they obtained in the recent General Election.

In last year's elections the Labour Party gained 127 seats in 1,878 seats which fell vacant in 131 of the principal towns.

Every other party last year received a setback, the Conservatives losing 70 seats, the Liberals 19 and the Independents 37.

ARAB WOMEN UNVEIL. PRECEDENT ESTABLISHED IN PALESTINE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

JERUSALEM, Oct. 27. For the first time in the history of Palestine, Moslem women unveiled before a stranger yesterday, when a delegation from the Congress of Arab Women, both Moslem and Christian, from all over Palestine, appeared and unveiled before the High Commissioner, to whom they submitted a resolution passed by the Congress, protesting inter alia, against the British declaration on Zionist immigration. They also alleged police maltreatment of Arab prisoners.

U.S. "NAVY DAY."

ROOSEVELT'S BIRTHDAY.

New York, October 26.—Officers and men of the United States Navy, wherever they may be stationed, will celebrate to-morrow the observance of Navy Day, and the birthday of a friend, Theodore Roosevelt.

Roosevelt, one time Assistant Secretary of the Navy, has been referred to as "the best friend the Navy ever had."

Buildings and ships will fly flags as numerous civil and military functions are held here and in other sections of the nation. More than 25,000 visitors are expected at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where the guests will be entertained by officers and enlisted men with tours, exhibitions and demonstrations.

The throngs, which will include many children, will have an opportunity to inspect and board submarines, cruisers and light destroyers. Planes from nearby naval bases will manoeuvre over the Yard in various formations.

To-morrow's celebration will be the seventh observance of Navy Day. In 1922 the Navy Department first selected a day on which to stimulate interest in the naval forces and chose the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt because of his interest in building up the sea power of the United States.

It is expected, as has been customary for the last few years, for organizations interested in peace to hold outdoor meetings to protest against observance of Navy Day as an encouragement to militarism. Union Square will probably be the scene of mild demonstrations consisting of a few speeches and a parade with the participants carrying placards denouncing militarism and naval appropriations.

NEW YORK 'CHANGE SLUMP.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. Trading rallied considerably at the opening of the share markets, but quietened down. Popular counters rose from five to 20 points. Several hundred extra police were drafted into the Wall Street area as a precaution against possible disturbance. The stock market opened rallying, but speedily reacted downwards.

The floor of the exchange was again like Bedlam, although yesterday's scenes of demoralization were not repeated. Prices moved upwards towards the close.

President's Optimism.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. Following the stock market slump, President Hoover, in a reassuring statement to Pressmen, declared that the fundamental business of the country was on a sound basis, and production and distribution were well maintained. Prices of commodities and stocks of goods had not increased, while wages tended to increase and the output per worker had risen.

Rates in London.

LONDON, Oct. 26. After an appreciable rise in leading securities in London the market discount rates fell to 6 per cent, as compared with the bank rate of 6.

This was followed by a subsidence of inflated prices on the American Stock Exchange, which the economist, Sir Josiah Stamp, in an interview in New York, said was not only valuable to the financial health of the United States, but still more valuable to the rest of the world.

Mr. William Graham, President of the Board of Trade, in a speech at Hendon, welcomed the vast "shake out" in Wall Street, which may lead to easier conditions by lowering the British bank rate.

COTTON FIRM FAILURE.

SENSATION IN LIVERPOOL.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 26. The failure of the well known Liverpool cotton firm of H. N. Brinson and Company, which was posted in the Cotton Exchange this morning, caused very great excitement, and the session of the Exchange was prolonged for an extra half an hour to enable the market to cope with the position.

OLYMPIA SHOW CLOSES.

SUCCESSFUL EXHIBITION.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 26. The Motor Show at Olympia closes to-day. Although there has been a slight falling off in the number of visitors, exhibitors express their complete satisfaction with the results, and British manufacturers of more popular models declare that the show has established fresh sales records.

Telegrams in Brief.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald has sailed for England after sending a message to Canada expressing his warm gratitude at the cordiality of his welcome.

According to an official agency the Soviet authorities have uprooted a big Monarchist organisation in the North Caucasus masquerading as a religious sect. The members of its "Council of Twelve" have been sentenced to death and executed, whilst others have been sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

By the record vote of 78 to 17, the Maritime Conference at Geneva adopted the report of the committee to initiate consultations with various Governments with a view to a conclusion of the convention for fixing the length of seamen's working hours.

In a speech he made on Thursday night, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Philip Snowden, held that there was not much prospect of "reducing taxation in the next Budget."

Two Japanese officers and one petty officer are missing as the result of a naval scout plane falling into the sea during naval manoeuvres in the Japan Sea. Destroyers which set out in search found portions of the wrecked machine, but no sign of the missing crew.

BRITISH MOTOR CARS.

INSURANCE COMPANY'S INVESTMENT.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 25.

It is now confirmed that the Prudential Assurance Co. have arranged to invest £1,000,000 in Routes, one of the largest of the motor-car manufacturers, for the purpose of developing the automobile industry throughout the Empire.

This will result in establishing additional offices and service centres overseas, and it is hoped greatly to increase the number of exported British cars.

BRITISH AIRSHIP.

TROUBLE WITH ENGINES.

[REUTER'S WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUOBY, Oct. 25.

The Air Ministry announces that during a trial run of one of the auxiliary engines used for starting the main power units of the Airship R101, a small plug in the lubrication system of the starting engine came unseparated causing one of the gear wheels to seize up.

The engine has been sent to the designers for rectification and a further test. The flying trials of the airship are consequently suspended for the time being.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.

Seated in an invalid chair, Albert Fall, the elderly ex-Senator and ex-Secretary of the Interior, now physically broken, heard the verdict of "guilty" at the conclusion of the protracted trial against him for accepting a bribe of $100,000 from the oil magnate Dornay for the lease of an oilfield at Elk Hill in the naval oil reserve.

The verdict carried a recommendation of mercy.

CRICKET.

INTERPORT TRIAL.

Another beautiful day. As I expected, the Probables batted first and Fincher and Crake started to Reid (Naval Yard end) and Wyatt. The former gave away two fours from leg balls but at 14 he bowled Crake's off stump, with a beauty. Pearce came in and at once proceeded to hit the ball right in the middle of the bat, and had two fours, one square and one to long-leg—both beautiful shots. (By the way, I should mention that Crake had damaged his hand and, though the injury is not serious he was down as number eleven).

Things then went fairly quietly, when 50 was on the board Wyatt had bowled eight overs for fourteen runs. Reid was rather expensive. At 52 Kelly went on for Reid but was a bit on the leg. As usual, his field was wrong as, to Pearce and Fincher, he had two deep fields. This lost a man which he really wanted in the box. At 58 rather a tragedy happened. Fincher hit one to extra cover, and Goldman threw the wicket down while Pearce was not hurrying. Next ball Reynolds was taken at second slip off his glove—a belated reward for some good bowling on Wyatt's part. (58-3-0.) Owen Hughes then came in. Runs continued to come steadily if not very fast and at 78 Stanson relieved Wyatt, who had bowled eleven overs for twenty-one runs and one wicket. Owen Hughes promptly hooked him twice to the leg boundary and once square—the latter a beautiful stroke, the best he has. He was very hard on Stanson later also. Meanwhile Fincher as usual played a Fincherian innings (N.B., this phrase is covered by patent). At 116 W. Hung came on, but it was a little difficult to understand why he and Kelly were bowled before Anderson, unless the authorities have already made up their minds about the University player.

Time Hitting By Owen Hughes.

Owen Hughes reached fifty with a beautiful shot: past cover off Stanson and in the next over proceeded to hit Hung all over the ground. At 147 Rumjahn relieved Stanson and off his third ball Fincher was well caught by Richardson off a flicker at square leg. (152-4-38.) At 154, after a four to long leg, was bowled by a good one from Hung, which came back from the off. (164-5-4.) Anderson then went on for Rumjahn but Owen Hughes took fourteen off his first over, chiefly by big pulled drives. At 204 Reid relieved Hung and had Parker taken at first slip off his second ball. Richardson relieved Anderson, who had not had much of a show and was on, I think, at the wrong end. Next over E. F. Fincher was dropped off his first ball at second slip. He was brilliantly taken off the fifth ball low at first slip by Rumjahn. The bowlers umpire referred the decision to the square leg umpire who gave him out, an entirely correct decision.

Next over Owen Hughes completed his hundred with an (apparently) one handed shot to backward leg. The innings was declared at 223 made in about two and a quarter hours.

The Rest Bat.

Rumjahn and Goldman started to Reynolds and Parker. Bowker was not bowling very wisely, as he had had some trouble with a muscle in his back. Pearce kept wicket. Goldman had a lucky four off Parker over second slip and drove him for a similar number and nicked one to the long leg boundary. But on the whole the cricket was very dull especially as there were the four men all on the fringe of the Interport to come in. E. F. Fincher and Owen Hughes came on and the latter might have had Goldman stumped. However, he had his revenge later when he beat and bowled the batsman with a good run. (58-1-33.) Richardson came in to play very nice cricket. Rumjahn played some very nice shots but at 80 he was bowled by Owen Hughes for 38. Richardson, with his score at 19 should have been taken in the slips. Darkness put an end to the game with the score at 100 for 3 wickets.

Comment.

As an Interport trial the afternoon may be regarded as practically wasted. One assumes that the men who were most in the running were Anderson, Richardson, Maxwell and Wyatt. The latter had a good bowl but did not bat at all. Anderson had only three overs at his wrong end, and was up against Owen Hughes thoroughly set. Richardson went in at 5.30 p.m. and played very good cricket in a bad light. He was much more convincing at the start of his innings than he has been, and seems settling down to the light. I see in him a man who, if he stays here, will play for many years in the games with other ports. Maxwell, who might easily win a match off his own bat, never got a knock at all, but he showed excellent form in ground fielding; he did not get a catch.

The Probables' bowling with Bowker, Brace and Wyatt away was not very strong and though Rumjahn and Goldman put up 58 for the first wicket, the latter should have been out twice. It seemed a sheer waste of forty minutes good light, though A. A. Rumjahn may be by some regarded as a possible candidate.

The fielding of the Probables still leaves much to be desired in catching, but one must remember that the light after five is most difficult. Pearce kept wicket excellent considering it is his first time out there. In the normal way he would have taken both the catch and stump chances, while the only four byes came from a ball very wide on the leg, for which he could not be blamed. Of course, the strain of keeping must detract from his batting, though to-day he played a beautiful knock, taking everything right in middle of the bat. And with luck at least we should bat first once at least and let him bat when fresh. Besides, I doubt if a long day in the field is not nearly as tiring.

Brace, with a damaged finger very wisely did not bat. I think we can be assured of a good batting side whoever plays. I am more afraid of the fielding, on top of only mediocre bowling. But much may be done between now and November 9.

UNIVERSITY v. R.E. & S.

Last Season: R.E. & S. Won by 7 Wickets.

Only one league match was decided over the week-end this being between the University seconds and R.E. & S. The game was played at Pokfulam and resulted in a win for the soldiers by 41 runs.

The 'Varsity' side had first innings but failed to score a run against some steady bowling by the visitors. Seven wickets fell for 71 runs and it was left to Adams, who went in rather late, to make the highest score—35 runs. Harrison took 6 wickets for 53 runs and Skinner 3 for 29.

The Engineers & Signallers replied with 105 of which 41 came from Deavell and 30 from Mitchell. Hiptoola was the most successful bowler for the undergrade, taking 4 wickets for 49 runs.

FRIENDLIES.

KOWLOON v. NAVY.

At the Navy ground, King's Park, Kowloon Cricket Club played a drawn game with the home team. The visitors had first knock and thanks to a well-played 74 (not out) by 'Freddie' Zimmerman were able to declare their innings closed at 180 runs for the loss of only 3 wickets.

The senior service eleven in reply knocked up 95 runs also for 3 wickets when stumps were drawn. Amaine was top scorer for his side with 20 runs.

Scores:—
K.C.C. 180 for 3 dec.
Navy 95 for 3.

POLICE v. C.C.C.

Playing at home the Police Recreation Club scored an easy victory over the Craignower Cricket Club seconds. The home team batted first and with 36 from B. G. Baker and 35 from Kirby were able to declare their innings closed at 150 after 9 wickets had fallen. For the visitors Abbas bowled well and took 4 wickets for 33 runs.

Baker was also in form with the ball taking 7 wickets for only 24 runs with the result that Craignower C.C. were dismissed for one run in a century. Incidentally Abbas also came off with the bat and was highest scorer with a well-played 38.

Scores:—
Police R.C. 150 for 9.
Craignower C.C. 99.

H.K.C.C. v. R.A.

The H.K.C.C. second XI scored an over-whelming victory over the R.A. on the latter's ground. The Club team batted first and with Moor (54) and Divett (33) playing well, declared at 216 for the loss of only 6 wickets. Maltus took 2 wickets for 22.

When the Artillery team batted it was just a sorry procession—Maltus with 11 was the only man to run into double figures. Summers bowled well for his 5 wickets for 11 runs while Divett took 5 for 71.

Scores:—
H.K.C.C. 2nd XI 216 for 6 dec.
R.A.

K.C.C. v. I.R.C.

The Kowloon juniors entertained the Indians at King's Park and after the home side who batted first had run up a total of 184, the game ended in a draw. A. R. F. Raven played bright cricket for his 48 while Hamblin who was dropped off the second ball he received went on to make a lucky 35 (not out). The Indians tried no less than seven bowlers with F. M. el Arculli (4 for 31) returning the best analysis.

Scores:—
K.C.C. 134.
I.R.C. 93 for 4 wkts.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

I.R.C. v. K.O.S.B.

A feature of the I.R.C.-K.O.S.B. match, which was played on the former's ground yesterday was a stylish innings for 88 runs by A. H. Madar.

The home team batted first and through some consistent batting and mainly due to Madar's knock were able to declare at 230 for the loss of 8 wickets. A. A. Rumjahn collected 32 in a well-played innings in which he brought off some very pretty shots. The soldiers tried six bowlers but none met with any outstanding success. When the regional team went in to bat they found the I.R.C. bowling sound and with the exception of Maxwell (40), who has been getting a lot of runs lately, none of them made much of a stand. Minu (A.R.) was in form with the ball, and took 5 wickets at the cost of 4 runs apiece while Suffad also showed up well with 2 for 11.

VOLUNTEERS v. C.C.C.

The Volunteers journeyed to Happy Valley yesterday where they played an all-day game with the Craignower Cricket Club. The visitors won by 29 runs.

Batting first the Volunteers put up 233 runs of which 63 were from Richardson and 53 from Moor. These two batsmen opened the innings for their side and were not separated till 115 runs were shown on the board. Lin bowled well for the home club, taking 3 wickets for 18 runs.

Faced with this formidable total the home club went for the runs in a business-like fashion and thanks to a well-played 95 (not out) by E. Zimmerman almost succeeded in winning. For the Volunteers Kelly took 2 wickets for 19 runs, and Richardson 4 for 47.

JAMES LILLYWHITE DEAD.

FAMOUS NAME IN CRICKET.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.

A link with the cricket of the past has been broken by the death, which occurred to-day, of James Lillywhite, a former famous Sussex bowler. He was 87 years of age.

[The veteran cricketer was born in Sussex in 1842 and for over 40 years he was actively connected with the game—for the first half of the period as a player and later as an umpire. His outstanding feat was the taking of all the wickets in an innings for the South v. North. He visited Australia six times between 1873 and 1888 as a professional player.]

In his old age, Lillywhite settled down at Weston, close to the place of his birth. Adv

SCOUTS' AQUATICS.

SUCCESSFUL AFTERNOON
AT THE V.R.C.LADIES WANTED AS CUB MISTRESSES.

The finals of the Scouts' Annual Swimming Races took place at the V.R.C. bath on Saturday. The seats around the bath were packed with scouts, cubs and scout masters and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon's sport, which provided thrills of the best.

C. Sloan, of the Tai Koo Scottish won the Senior 50 yards and 100 yards races and clearly established himself the fastest swimmer of the troops. The senior diving was won by a Chinese sea scout and young Alex Sheldon, of the Peak Cub Pack won the applause of the spectators by his clever diving.

The inter-troop team race was eventually won by the Sea-Scouts after a thrilling struggle.

The Fancy Race.

The "fancy race" which concluded the programme for the afternoon was not without humour. The competitors were required to swim the length of the bath and without outside help they had to light a candle (with their wet hands) and swim back with the candle alight. Grunberg, of St. Andrew's troop was first away with his candle alight. Reaching half-distance of the bath he glanced at his candle, and with a somewhat worried look turned back and swam to relight it. It was not until he actually got out of the bath that he found his candle had been alight all the time. In spite of this handicap he swam back to the winning post and won!

An Appeal for Cubbers and Mistresses.

Prior to distributing the prizes, the Rev. G. T. Waldegrave, the Scout Commissioner, said that he was sure they were all sorry that the Hon. D. R. H. Kotewall, the President of the Scouts' Association could not be present. Dr. Kotewall had on previous occasion given away the prizes and was therefore greatly missed.

The speaker also said that he had written an appeal in the forthcoming number of the Silver Wolf for more cubbers. He also wanted more ladies as mistresses as they knew more about the young cubs than grey haired and bearded old men! (Laughter.) It was more convenient for ladies to take up the post as they could attend the meetings which generally took place at 3 p.m.

V.R.C. Thanked.

The Commissioner commented on the fine entry from the cubbers and remarked that it was very encouraging for the movement. The speaker thanked the Secretary and Committee of the V.R.C. for the bath, and all who had assisted in making the afternoon's sport the success that it had achieved.

The Results.

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

HEAVY SCORING IN ENGLISH LEAGUE MATCHES.

BLACKPOOL GAIN SECOND DIVISION LEADERSHIP.

SCOTLAND DEFEAT WALES.

Heavy scores were registered in the football matches at Home on Saturday. Manchester City, in their First Division away match at Liverpool, won 8-1, while Middlesbrough won by four clear goals at home against Derby County. In Second Division matches, Blackpool beat their visitors, Bristol City, 7-1. West Bromwich beat Swansea 6-2. Northern Section home teams were in great form. Stockport beat Halifax 6-0, Carlisle beat Hartlepool 5-2, and Southport accounted for Chesterfield 5-1.

Sheffield Wednesday and the Arsenal both lost on their visits by the only goal scored, and this gave Manchester City second place beside Leeds United, who shared the points with Leicester. The Villa moved up from sixth to third place.

The short reign of the Wolves at the head of the Second Division ended with their defeat at Southampton and the success of Blackpool. Oldham now follow Blackpool closely.

Plymouth remain at the top of the Southern Section, followed by Brentford who replaced Northampton. Port Vale, leaders in the Northern Section, again shared the points, but are still well ahead. Stockport and Accrington improved their positions.

Aberdeen, Scottish League leaders, and their close rivals, the Rangers, both won at home by the only goal resulting from their fixtures.

Results of League matches and an International fixture, as cabled by Reuter, and revised League tables are appended:—

CHRISTMAS CHIMES WINS CUP.

THRILLING RACE FOR AGGREGATE STAKES:
WINSOME STAG SUCCEEDS.

MR. HARRIMAN AGAIN IN FORM: HEADS WINNING LIST.

HIAWATHA PROVES INVULNERABLE.

[By "MORNING DEW"]

The race for the Aggregate Stakes on Saturday at the Seventh Extra Meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club will be long remembered by those who saw it. Neither Chesapeake Bay nor Christmas Chimes was made favourite, the public preferring the lightly weighted Winsome Stag. In spite of his weight, however, Winsome Stag was hard pressed and only managed to win by half a length in a thrilling race described below. Christmas Chimes ran second and thereby won the Aggregate Cup for the most consistent performance during the season.

Mr. Harriman again headed the list of winning jockeys by securing two first, two seconds and a third. Mr. Harriman was never unplaced, starting only five times during the afternoon. Mr. Soares rode two winners, Mr. Heard a winner and two seconds, Mr. Laing (a novice) a winner and a second, Mr. Cave won the novice race and obtained a third in the "D" Class and Mr. Newbiggin won the curtain-raiser.

Dividends on the whole were satisfactory and the day's sport was not marred by any accident or incident and the support from the public was very good.

THE RACING.

1.—Bonham Handicap: "A" Class.

There were five starters for this mile race and some of the best ponies in training took the field. Once again the public made Duke of Chantilly favourite and once again the pony disappointed, being this time beaten out of a place.

Young Pretender, Monterey Bay, Our Prince and Glorious Stag were the other starters. The last named was out of the race from the start, which was somewhat delayed by Our Prince behaving none too well. When the field got away Monterey Bay and Our Prince took the lead with Young Pretender running third two lengths behind. Glorious Stag and Duke of Chantilly brought up the rear. The field was together at the Rock and on the downward journey the Duke came through at a cracking pace, leading by a length and half into the straight from Young Pretender.

Three hundred yards from home Our Prince, Monterey Bay and Young Pretender caught up with the leader, Duke of Chantilly, who refused to take up the challenge and dropped ignominiously out of the race. Young Pretender showed a great turn of speed in the last few strides to beat Monterey Bay by almost a length, Our Prince being half a length behind.

The winner, it will be noted covered the distance in 2 minutes 4.2-5 seconds—a good performance considering that the going was not very fast.

2.—Bonham Handicap: "C" Class.

There were thirteen starters in this race over six furlongs and the heavily weighted Zephyr (Mr. Heard up) was made favourite. He failed to find a place.

There was some trouble at the start but when the field got away it was seen that Papaya, Duke of Milan, the Ptarmigan and Sunshine were well away. Fanning Stag was in the middle of the group and Amusement Tax was among those who brought up the rear.

Amusement Tax shook off the tail-enders and began to creep up on the leaders. The position at the village before the field entered the straight was Papaya, Ptarmigan, Amusement Tax and Sunshine. Fanning Stag was still out of the picture being sixth into the straight.

Mr. Harriman brought out Sunshine 300 yards from home and Mr. Liang quickly followed his example. The two passing the rest of the field. Fanning Stag also was seen to come through and these three made a great race of it in the straight. Mr. Harriman bringing his mount home half a length ahead of Amusement Tax, which was three-quarters of a length ahead of Fanning Stag. The favourite, Zephyr, could only get fourth place.

3.—Caine Handicap: "B" Class.

King's Falloch was made a red-hot favourite for this race over the mile and quarter, there being eight other starters. Sztatmar sat a fast pace to the race and in this he was helped by Erstwhile. King's Falloch and Little Thunder lay handily behind the leaders, about four or five lengths, which, to say the least is within striking distance.

After three quarters of a mile, Erstwhile was finished and gradually dropped back while Sztatmar travelled alone, closely followed by King's Falloch and Little Thunder. Delaware Bay and Nara Stag were on the heels of King's Falloch as the field entered the straight. Here a grueling struggle ensued between King's Falloch and Sztatmar but about a hundred yards from home, Little Thunder came along with a terrific pace to "rob" the honours from the other two. King's Falloch and Sztatmar made such a good struggle of it that they dead-heated for second place a length behind the winner. Nara Stag came next and Delaware Bay was a bad fifth.

4.—Fifth Aggregate Stakes.

Four ponies entered for this race, one of whom was obviously out of his class—Huntingdon.

Chesapeake Bay and Christmas Chimes were there to decide who was going to win the cup. They also had to decide, with Winsome Stag, who was going to win the race.

Winsome Stag, with an imposition of 140 lbs. was slightly better fancied by the public than Chesapeake Bay. Christmas Chimes, by reason of his defeat in the Aggregate Stakes at the Sixth Extra Meeting, had very few backers, being roughly at 8-1.

After Huntingdon had thrown Mr. Frost three times, the field got away with Huntingdon in the lead. Winsome Stag tried to wrest the lead from Jardine's representative, but failed, having to be satisfied with second place for the first half mile. Christmas Chimes also joined in the rush for the lead, but Heard apparently changed his tactics after the first quarter mile and never contended leadership again until entering the straight.

Meanwhile, Harriman on Chesapeake Bay was content to wait at the rear. He was by no means going slow as he was never more than four to five lengths behind. The first quarter was covered in 23.2-5 seconds, this being Huntingdon's time. At the half mile post Winsome Stag had gone in front, covering the distance in 49.8 seconds. Christmas Chimes passed Huntingdon at the Rock and got within a length of Winsome Stag, while Chesapeake Bay in the meantime made up the gap rapidly and was on level terms with Christmas Chimes, the two taking the village bend together, a length behind the leader.

The last pace exhausted all three animals and the length which Winsome Stag had in hand proved to be the deciding factor of the race.

In the straight Chesapeake Bay passed Christmas Chimes and was steadily gaining on Winsome Stag when the thing which every backer of Chesapeake Bay had to reckon with came about. The animal, under pressure began to bore out and in view of the telling pace, he never got into the picture again. Meanwhile Christmas Chimes was pressed for all he was worth and responded very gamely to Mr. Heard's repeated urgings. He drew up to Winsome Stag, fought for the lead over fifty yards and then gradually gave way. Inch by inch the dun pony drew ahead and caught the judge's eye a half length sooner than Christmas Chimes.

Chesapeake Bay was four lengths behind. The race was by far the most exciting in all the extra meetings of this year. Winsome Stag's time was 2 minutes 3.1-5 seconds, which was very good indeed considering the state of the going and both owner and jockey were given a great ovation after the race.

5.—Paddock Plate.

Although there were seven starters in this race for novices once round, there were never more than two ponies in the race. After a delay at the start caused by difficulty in getting the field together, City Hall and San Francisco got away together, but a few strides and although City Hall made many efforts all the way, he never overhauled San Francisco, who won in a canter.

City Hall similarly had no difficulty in getting second place and Cream Cracker proved to be the best of the rest of the starters, securing third place.

City Hall carried slightly fewer tickets than the winner.

6.—Bonham Handicap: "B" Class.

Over a mile, this race attracted nine ponies, of which Nounkhal was made a slightly stronger favourite than The Ape. Glory was the only other pony in demand, the remainder of the starters being almost neglected.

Thunderbolt and Ace of Spades set a fast pace but they did not attract the rest of the field who were bent on running their own race. After half way, both leaders were seen to slacken and Glory and The Ape wrestled the lead from them at the head of the straight while Nounkhal made up many lengths at the village.

The Ape looked all over a winner when he shook off Glory three hundred yards from home, but Nounkhal was brought through on the outside, when The Ape was running easily. Mr. Harriman again set his mount to the task and all but overhauled Nounkhal at the finish, gaining on him at every stride as they were nearing the winning post. Nounkhal however, held out long enough and got the verdict by half a length. Glory was a good third.

Samaritan must have made up a good bit of ground at the end to obtain fourth place.

7.—Caine Handicap: "A" Class.

Four ponies, including One Third and Fifty Fifty from the "same stable", started in this mile and quarter race. Triumphant Stag and Hiawatha were the other starters.

Hiawatha was favourite, but there were quite a good number of supporters for One Third. Triumphant surprised everyone by trying to set the pace. In this he was successful for a time, but One Third took the lead after the first quarter mile.

Mr. Heard who was riding the Stag again sent him in front, but five furlongs from home, the animal was all spent and was out of the race.

Hiawatha meanwhile followed Fifty Fifty who was about five lengths behind the leader. Mr. Soares' mount got on level terms with the rest of the field at the Rock and won in a canter in the subsequent run home. One Third was second and Fifty Fifty third.

8.—Bonham Handicap: "D" Class.

Mountain Air (Heard up) was well supported, in the last race of the day. Cavalier however, won the event. Mr. Harriman taking the lead in the last furlong, after Mountain Air had shown the way over the first five furlongs.

Prominent among the others were Kumon, Sunny Day and Sunloch. The last named did well indeed to secure third place. Sunny Day fell at an earlier meeting and could not do anything, starting badly and finishing weakly.

Ploughman was left at the start, but he made good about ten lengths only to fade away again in the last quarter.
